Christian Rees is a graduate of the Economic Academy Hamburg and a professional businessman. In addition, he is a certified Contextual Coach and a certified Consultant for Vision-Led Companies. Soon he will complete his studies as Master of Cognitive Neuroscience.

In his over 20 years of experience in leadership positions as CEO, CFO and CRO, he has amassed valuable people, organizational, and leadership experience, particularly in restructuring and development projects.

In 2010 he founded his own consultant business to support entrepreneurs and businesses -especially in challenging business situations - to successfully develop new directions.

As interim CEO working with Dr. Warschawski, his enthusiasm over the successful introduction of the Vision-Led concept to his business prompted his decision to concentrate on consulting and coaching companies in the establishment of Vision-Led Organizations.

In his everyday work with people and businesses, he combines his substantial hands-on experience with current scientific knowledge from the fields of psychology and neurology to benefit his clients.

Bringing his extensive knowledge of finance together with goal-oriented organizational methods and innovative management instruments, he increases the human values and the profit of the organizations he consults.

As a Contextual Coach he enables managers and leaders to achieve absolute clarity about their goals and to find profitable solutions to difficult situations.

Centered in Nürnberg, Christian Rees is active throughout all of Germany.

He lives with his wife and two children in the vicinity of Erlangen.
