

DR. WARSCHAWSKI

ROSEMARY WARSCHAWSKI

Senior Vice President

Rosemary Warschawski completed her Bachelor of Liberal Arts in Social Sciences at the Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore, MD with distinction.

She is the co-founder of the Achievement Consulting Firm, Dr. Warschawski, where she is active in the conception, presentation, and marketing of the firm's services.

She works as co-leader of top management seminars on topics of communication, performance, motivation, and partnership relations. Seminar participants especially appreciate Mrs. Warschawski's unique ability to connect with them in a way that facilitates their individual and personal commitment to the seminars' concepts.

In addition to her activities as an editor and PR consultant, Rosemary Warschawski is active on many organizational boards where she has been either chair or member of Planning, Fundraising, and/or Marketing Committees.

Because she enjoys and is committed to continuing adult education, for years she has been a popular lecturer in the community forum, "For Women by Women" in Baltimore and has presented lectures to women's organizations in Switzerland and Germany on the topic of Tolerance.

As a very "hands on" mother she spent several years as president of the Parent Teacher's Association - as well as member of the board - of her children's private school in Baltimore.

She continues her dedication to education in her current work as founding and ongoing board member of the new, innovative, and very successful private school attended by a number of her grandchildren. In addition she serves on the school's marketing and development committees.

Rosemary Warschawski lives in her native Baltimore with her husband and family.
